

ENTaP Platform Constitution

Trust Principles v1

Purpose

These principles define how ENTaP should make decisions. They are not legal documents; they are the philosophical foundation for future policies, moderation, economy, and platform governance.

1. Player Identity Matters

ENTaP is the steward of years of player history. Accounts are operated by ENTaP, but player identity, achievements, Hives, friendships, and history should be preserved whenever reasonably possible. Competitive ratings may decay by design; history should not.

2. Fair Competition Comes First

Players should have a reasonable opportunity to access the same competitive systems. Preparation, drafting, buff selection, execution, and adaptation are all legitimate competitive skills. Victory should never be purchased outright.

3. Communities Outlast Games

Games are experiences. Hives, friendships, championships, and identity persist across titles.

4. Transparency Builds Trust

Balance changes should be explained. When ENTaP makes material mistakes, it should acknowledge them, communicate openly, and make reasonable efforts to correct the impact.

5. Competition Must Be Protected

Intentional cheating is incompatible with ENTaP. Competitive integrity outweighs short-term growth. Serious enforcement should include a fair review process whenever practical.

6. Accessibility Is A Platform Principle

Accessibility is part of building better games. We will continue improving accessibility where practical because better accessibility strengthens both games and communities.

7. Schools And Communities Matter

ENTaP Academy and University exist to strengthen schools and communities through healthy competition.

8. Players Deserve Their History

Players should eventually be able to access meaningful portions of their platform history and data where practical.

9. Long-Term Trust Over Short-Term Revenue

ENTaP will never sacrifice player trust, fair competition, or long-term community health for short-term revenue.

10. Fun Is The North Star

Revenue should follow great games. Great games should not follow revenue. ENTaP exists to build games and communities people genuinely enjoy.

Decision Filter

Before implementing any feature, ask: Does it strengthen player trust? Preserve fair competition? Build long-term community? Make the game more fun? If not, reconsider it.
